EVALUATION STATEMENT FROM BYCOP SAL

It is a great honor for Bycop to receive a certificate from the LCPC as a successful, economically growing Business using hi-tech machines in its production process and at the same time capable of representing the environmental standards.

Based on workshops held by LCPC to several business representatives, the several visits made by the expertise to our location, and the studies made on our production system, we have known the strengths and weakness in our process of production, and have learned how to improve our weakness and invest our aspect of strength.

We have reached to belief that; as an industrial institution, if good researches are done on how to save power and raw material, and if the right decisions are made on how to diminish wastes and control gaseous emission, the cost of becoming environmentally friendly is actually an ethical and economical profit for the future.
